The PC meets up to eight times a year in the Village Hall and starts with an open session when any member of the Public is invited to raise any matters of concern to them. There is also an Annual Parish meeting held in April when each Councillor gives a report on the matters for which they have been responsible. All Parishioners are invited to attend all meetings and to ask questions during the public session at the beginning.

The PC communicates with Parishioners in a number of ways:

- Website – www.radwinter.org in which all Councillors are listed with contact details. The site also has copies of the PC Meeting's minutes and lots of other information.
- Radwinter Times – delivered to all Parishioners monthly generally by email, post for remote dwellings not on the Internet.. Paper copies available at a central point, the Post office and the Bluebell. Past issues are on the Village Website. Editor James Briggs 599352 jamesronbriggs@btinternet.com
- Ambo Magazine – delivered by volunteers to all Parishioners quarterly with Benefice of The Sampfords, Hempstead and Radwinter news and articles. The Radwinter representative, to whom all contributions should be sent, is Stephanie Emberson 599507 stephanie.e.scott@hotmail.co.uk
- Notice boards - outside the Village Hall, the School and in the Bus Stop. Also inside the Village Hall and Post Office.

The Village

Radwinter contains a high number of important buildings listed for their historic and architectural value and has a conservation area at its centre. There are three grades of relative importance (I, II-star and II).

Listed buildings are protected by law. This does not mean a listed building can not be altered but listed building consent is required for its demolition and for any alteration or extension which would affect its character - the exterior of the building including replacement windows and doors, its interior (including its floor plan and fixtures), any attachments to the building, and its curtilage (any object or structure forming part of the land since before 1st July 1948) and The Setting which may include obviously ancillary land, but may also include land some distance from it. Listed building consent is separate from planning permission, and sometimes required when the latter is not. All listed building applications require an "Access and Design Statement". Apply to the Planning Department.

Within the Conservation Area an 'Article 4 Direction' may include similar conditions on unlisted buildings and permission may be needed for alterations to such as cladding, inserting windows, installing satellite dishes and solar panels, adding conservatories or other extensions, laying paving or building walls. UDC may change what alterations need permission so check before starting any work including cutting down or pruning a tree. A Tree Preservation Order, which does not currently apply to Radwinter, may be issued. .

History

A very brief description - fuller details may be obtained from the Radwinter Society. This has the Village records. The Radwinter Recorder and Village Archivist is Michael Southgate 599478 radwinter.recorder@hotmail.com from whom you may ask for photos, documents, posters, programmes, service sheets, building details, etc. on people, places and events in Radwinter past. Michael also welcomes additions to his collection.

Pre Roman The origins Radwinter may be that the word 'winter' indicates a stream that only ran in winter, dried out in summer. The 'Rad' could come from 'rad' meaning clearing or maybe reeds, so perhaps a reedy stream navigable in winter. This accords with the suggestion that neighbouring Sampford means 'summer ford', an alternative summer route. In ancient times Radwinter was a tiny settlement on a rise of ground made fertile by Pant flooding. A discovered Neolithic skeleton evidences Radwinter's early habitation. Later Radwinter was in the area of the Trinovantes.

Roman An encampment, a burial ground where pottery shards, coins and other artefacts have been found, including a bronze figurine of a Celtic warrior, show the presence of Romans. Located at a crossing of two roman roads there would have been stone buildings to service travellers but nothing has survived above ground.

Saxon activity is shown on old maps - pastures and interconnecting drove ways, medieval tile kiln, fishponds, deer park, gallows, gravel pits, wells and springs, tithe barns, dovecotes, chapels, mills and prehistoric fortifications . The Saxons divided the parish into Great and Little Radwinter, but the distinction is now lost. There were four manors, Radwinter Hall, Brockhold's, Bendysh Hall and Radwinter Grange. Some of the building locations, particularly the Manors, probably date from this period albeit not the original buildings.

Norman Comparing Norman Radwinter with the time of Saxon Edward the Confessor, Domesday says, "Frodo holds Radwinter in demesne, which Ordgar held as a manor and as 1 hide and 1 virgate. Then as now there were 15 villans and 6 bordars and 3 and 3 (sic) ploughs in demesne and the men had 6 ploughs. There is woodland for 100 pigs. There are 30 acres of meadow. There were then 10 head of cattle, 60 sheep, 50 pigs, 25 goats, 1 hive of bees. There are now 18 head of cattle, 140 sheep, 37 pigs, 30 goats, 4 hives of bees. It was then worth £8; now £15. Of this manor Algar holds 30 acres of Frodo and they are worth 10s in the above assessment.

Post Norman As in the rest of the UK the Normans married local women and produced the present day population in which the genes indicate the bulk of people are descended from inhabitants who have been here for 15,000 years since the last Ice Age. Land given to the Normans after the conquest has passed to others through marriage, ecclesiastical soul 'gifts' , royal confiscation, e.g. monastery dissolution or plotting against the king and ordinary sale. The Millers and Wheelwrights were particularly successful in amassing fortunes which they often used to purchase estates.

Up to World War 2 Radwinter was a small agricultural town – the south end of Water Lane was known as 'The High Street'. There were shops - Grocer, Butcher, Baker, Off Licence, Sweetshop, Post office, 2 Forges, 4 Windmills, a Brewery, 4 Public houses and 3 Chapels. The population was probably similar in number to that today, mostly Farm Workers.

With the mechanisation of Farming most of the Farm Workers have disappeared and their dwellings purchased and extended by people who work in towns or have retired although there are still some people born in Radwinter descended from many generations.

Notable People

Inhabitants and owners of Radwinter land, whose literature is descriptive of Radwinter, include

The Brockholds family, whose correspondence between c.1417 and c.1453 is published in The Armburgh Papers.

William Harrison, Rector from 1558 to 1593, was author of The Description of England published with Hollingshead's Chronicles. This classic contemporary account of Tudor England is largely descriptive of Radwinter, as Harrison seldom travelled far, except on his annual journey to Windsor as a Canon of St George's Chapel. Harrison tells how boats had once come up the Pant from Maldon to Radwinter and of an anchor found locally.

The Revd. John Montford, M.A., Rector from 1593 to 1603, took opponents to the Star Chamber as he believed they caused evil spirits to haunt the churchyard to drive him out Royalist Richard Drake, Rector from 1638 to 1667. The Puritan churchwardens made life difficult for Drake. He was assaulted many times in church and outside. Strange preachers were intruded as Puritanism triumphed. When Charles II became King Drake was restored. But in 1667 he left Radwinter becoming Chancellor of Salisbury Cathedral.

The Bullock family Lords of the Manor and Rectors from 1758 to 1795 and again from 1806 to 1925. Much of the centre of Radwinter today is their work. Principal contributors were, John Frederick Bullock Rector from 1844 to 1865 who built the village school, and John Frederick Watkinson Bullock Rector from 1865 to 1916 and his architects William Eden Nesfield and Temple Moore built what is now the village hall, extended the churchyard, rebuilt the church, almshouses and centre of the village after a major fire in 1874. This has produced a concentration of buildings representing the Arts and Crafts Movement in a small rural village which is rare. Descendants still live in the village. Sir Jonathan Parker who lives at The Grange, is the grandson of Emily Margaret Joan Bullock, cousin of the Bullock Rectors.

Buildings

There are about 250 houses in Radwinter. Of these 53 are in East View (45), West and South Views (4 each) and there are other 20th and a few 21st century houses.

Many of its old houses and cottages date from Tudor times and are built of oak timbers felled in the surrounding woodlands. Some of the houses are more ancient and are clearly hall houses that have been altered at various stages in their history.

The Saint Mary the Virgin Church was originally built in the 12th century of flint and white limestone with tile and lead roofs. The south porch and door were added c 1350. Most of the nave is the oldest part of the Church with two 14th century king-post trusses. There were changes in the 16th century but the magnificent 16th century Flemish wooden Reredos was bought for Radwinter church from a saleroom in London in 1888.

The church today is dominated by a major Victorian restoration and enlargement by the Reverend John Frederick Watkinson Bullock (Rector 1865 to 1916). The Chancel was rebuilt longer; both aisles rebuilt; the clerestory remade using old materials and adding north and south vestries and an organ chamber. Illustrated letters of architect William Eden Nesfield to Bullock about the restoration have been published in "A Deuce of an Uproar". This and other historical literature is on sale in the church.

The Parish Plan

A 'Village Appraisal' was made in 2005, copy on the Village Web site (www.radwinter.org/RadPCvillageappraisal.pdf). This led to the Parish Plan for 2007 to 2012 which may be seen on the Uttlesford District Council Web site (www.uttlesford.gov.uk/documents/website/Planning/P%20Plans/radwinterparishplanv15.pdf)

Neighbourhood Watch

The main objective of Neighbourhood Watch is to reduce crime by a good community spirit. To promote this each main area, Radwinter Parish, has a Main Area Coordinator. There are also local coordinators for which the Parish is divided into local areas

The local areas and approximate house numbers for each Local Coordinator are:

1 East View South	16	8 Hempstead Road East	8
June Tupper 599566		Simon Berry 599181
2 East View North	25	9 Sampford Road	11
Andrew Coote 599352		Carol Howling 599674
3 Radwinter Central East	15	10 Radwinter South	14
Debbie Camp 599900		Volunteer required
4 Radwinter Central South	28	11 Radwinter North	19
Martin Baynes 599510		Jan Jeffreys 599368
5 Radwinter Central West	20	12 Radwinter End	20
Joan Simpson 599352		Hazel Smith 599597
6 Water Lane	12	13 Maple Lane	21
Viv Anderson 599782		Shirley Smith 599745
7 Mill End & Hempstead Road West	19	14 Stocking Green plus	19
Victoria Stevenson 598095		James Briggs 599352

Local Coordinators roles are:

Deliver Radwinter Times where there is no email address or access to dispensers. 10 times a year which will include 3 or 4 times a year 'Observer' - the Uttlesford Neighbourhood Watch quarterly Newsletter. Report to the Area Coordinator any departures and/or new arrivals in their area. This is the first and main role and is achieved by a wonderful band of people. Email is preferred because it has more information, will get there quicker, often have items in colour and 'zoomable' for small items.

The second role is to be a focal point for their area so that people can ask about all things happening in the Parish and matters relating to Neighbourhood Watch. The action here could be simply tell people to ring the Police or the Main Area Coordinator.

Part of the second role is to encourage people to report matters of concern to the police - phone 101 (999 if urgent). Such reports might include 'there is a strange white van cruising around and seems up to no good'.

A third role for the enthusiastic could be to encourage people in their area to exchange information between each other. Such information should include when on holiday. It has happened that Thieves have cleared out a house during daylight hours and no one thought to question why there was a removal van loading up !

A Coordinator may do none of the three tasks above but could assist in the task of putting hard copies of Police Alerts etc on notice boards etc.

The Home Office, Essex County Council and Essex Police together produce a number of publications in connection with Neighbourhood Watch:

Community Action Against Crime.
A guide to home security.
Peace of mind while you're away.

Help Beat the Burglar.
How to beat the bogus caller.
Don't give the Criminals an easy win!

In these straightened times supplies of these are limited but if you would like copies please send email to editor and who will see what can be done.

The Police issue a weekly Bulletin warning of Scams etc and also Police Alerts of specific criminal activity. Some of these will be summarised in Radwinter Times and maybe displayed on the notice board or people may get them direct.

For those with the Internet more information (probably too much) is available at:

Other useful sites are:

Advice on security matters is also available in person from Peter Caulfield 101 395333 or Peter.Caulfield@essex.pnn.police.uk

Neighbourhood Meetings and Police

Neighbourhood Meetings where residents may raise any issues they consider of concern in the neighbourhood, not just those that may concern the Police. The meetings for the Thaxted Beat alternate between Newport and Thaxted each at approximately 3 monthly intervals. All meetings will be chaired by a Resident and the Police will be represented.

Both meetings are open to all residents of the 'Thaxted Beat' which has two areas:

Thaxted Area – meetings Thaxted Fire Station, Bardfield Road CM6 2LP 1930 hours chaired by Mick McCook-Weir Thaxted Neighbourhood Watch Coordinator 01371 831917

Thaxted	Duton Hill	Wimbish
Great Sampford	Little Sampford	Little Bardfield
Radwinter	Hempstead

Newport Area - meetings Newport Fire Station CB11 3RU 19.00 hours
chaired by Derrick Giffin Newport Neighbourhood Watch Coordinator 543622

Newport	Debden	Debden Green
Quendon	Rickling Green	Widdington

The meeting dates are published in Radwinter Times or may be obtained from PC 70664 Hannah Griffiths who is based in Saffron Walden. PC Griffiths currently attends all meetings. She explained that individual Parishes ask for the Police to be represented at Parish Council meetings but this is not generally possible if there are to be Police to police our streets. Parish councils are urged to make sure they are represented at their appropriate area meeting either Newport or Thaxted or both.

Police surgeries A Police Community Support Officer attends Thaxted library, Clarence House, Watling Street, Thaxted CM6 2PJ Tuesdays 1600-1800 and Fridays 1000-1200. The officer is available to discuss any issues with members of the public on a personal basis. No appointments are necessary.

Police Staff and contact details - In an emergency call 999.

For non emergency matters call 101 extension 395333 for the Saffron Walden Police Station Front Office 1200-1800 Monday to Saturday. Outside those hours there is a message facility or the 101 switchboard will assist you.

Neighbourhood Inspector, Beat Officer and Police Community Support Officer

The names of current personnel are listed in Observer which is issued with Radwinter Times and may be view online at www.uttlesfordnhw.org.uk

Crimestoppers For those who wish to remain anonymous call 0800 555 111 any time day or night, or fill in secure 'giving information' form on the Crimestoppers website. You won't have to give your name, your call won't be traced or recorded, you won't have to make a statement and you'll never have to go to court, but the information you give could help police make an arrest.

Young people of all ages, particularly up to 18, are encouraged to use the Rec for impromptu games. Please keep clear of any organised event, the Cricket square and the Bowls Club to avoid damaging the turf. For more organised events such as 6 a side football, equipment (Goal posts etc) may be obtained from Dixie Walker 586487.

Bowls

The Radwinter Bowls Club located in the North East corner of the Recreation Ground was established in 1963. It now operates nationally in the Federation National Championships at Skegness and locally, in the North West Essex League Championship. Six league teams field each week and in 2011 there were two champions and two runners up. There are also cup matches and trophy days and a programme of friendly fixtures. Matches generally start at 2.30pm Tuesdays and weekends. The season runs from a Sunday in late April to mid September, the actual dates dependent upon the grass condition.

The Club is keen to recruit Radwinter members. Anyone interested is most welcome to sit and watch matches so long as there is space. Better there is a Tuesday 'Practice Evening.' If anyone wishes to 'have a go' contact the Secretary so an instructor will be there to offer advice and help. Bowls is easy to learn (20 minutes) but takes much longer to master. Green is open to members for practice. Shoes or trainers with flat soles/heels required. Any time from 6pm to 7.30pm. There is a bar in which visitors are welcome.

Heating Fuel Oil

There is no Oil Synidcate operating in our area because it is easier to use 'Boiler Juice' in which the more people get a delivery on the same day the cheaper is the oil and also fewer delivery vehicles. To maximise the benefit orders need to be placed at a weekend (Friday – Sunday) by as many people as possible. Generally the last Weekend of the month. Delivery will normally be about 10 days after order. The next date will be published in Radwinter Times. Order online at www.boilerjuice.com

The Rights of Way of Radwinter

The Rights of Way of Radwinter and adjacent areas map is presented on 6 A4 sheets :

1 at small scale showing the whole plan = which may be zoomed in digital copies

1 at large scale showing the centre of Radwinter

4 at readable scale showing the 4 quarters with a small overlap

Essex County Council keeps Public Rights of Way in good order and undertakes: to:

- put signposts where paths leave a road;
- waymark routes where they may be unclear;
- install and repair bridges over waterways;
- cut and clear vegetation on routes (except cross field paths where the landowner has a responsibility);
- repair surfaces;
- maintain drainage as appropriate;
- work with landowners who must reinstate their cross field paths and keep them clear of crops;
- work with landowners who maintain approved stiles and gates to safe standards;
- take enforcement action against landowners/ occupiers/ developers who fail to carry out their obligations in respect of Public Rights of Way.

Public Rights of Way give the general public access to the countryside. Users have a responsibility to do so safely and responsibly. In most cases the surrounding land will be privately owned, often working farmland and Users must stick to the right of way. For detailed information about rights of way see the Ramblers Association website. To report problems contact ECC Highways 0845 603 7621 highwayenquirieswest@essex.gov.uk has right of way on foot only. It should be at least 1 metre wide across a field where crops are growing and 1.5 metres wide where it passes around the edge of a field.

Types of Right of Way

Bridleway, marked by a blue arrow with a white surround, has right of way on foot, horseback and all types of bicycle. There may also be a right to drive animals along a bridleway.

Byway open to all traffic (BOAT), marked by a red arrow with a white surround, has right of way on foot, horseback or pedal cycle and by vehicles of all kinds although a BOAT is used mainly for walking or riding. Most do not have a sealed surface and may not be suitable for vehicles. .

Restricted byway, marked by a purple arrow with a white surround, has right of way on foot, on horseback or leading a horse, riding a bicycle or using any other vehicle that is not mechanically propelled.

The ECC interactive map of Rights of Way may be found on <http://www.essexhighways.org/Public-Rights-of-Way.aspx>. It should be noted that some of the Definitive Rights of Way are shown offset from those on the Ordinance Survey maps. The OS maps are correct.

The Rights of Way of Radwinter

There are about 50 km (31 miles) of Rights of Way in the Parish and the purpose of this map is to show where they are in relation to water courses, hedges etc.

Some of the information on this map has been obtained from the Definitive set of maps issued by Essex County Council in 2002. A path shown on these maps is conclusive legal evidence of a Public Right of Way. A path not shown does not necessarily mean it is not a right of way. Other information by walking paths. Interactive ROW map on www.essex.gov.uk/highways

The map accuracy is not to Ordnance Survey map standards but should be adequate to locate and use all the Rights of Way shown. The Kilometre Grid is to the National Grid.

The Rights of Way of Radwinter

There are about 50 km (31 miles) of Rights of Way in the Parish and the purpose of this map is to show where they are in relation to water courses, hedges etc.

Some of the information on this map has been obtained from the Definitive set of maps issued by Essex County Council in 2002. A path shown on these maps is conclusive legal evidence of a Public Right of Way. A path not shown does not necessarily mean it is not a right of way. Other information by walking paths.
